7 PARKS-INSPIRED BLANKETS
A few years ago, Rumpl introduced its Original Puffy Blanket, which is lightweight, durable, waterproof, resistant to odors, and made with materials typically found in premium sleeping bags and down jackets. Now Rumpl has created its National Parks Collection. Six Original Puffy Blankets are available in colors and designs inspired by terrains and landmarks of U.S. national parks, including the Grand Canyon (pictured); Yosemite; Arches; Joshua Tree; Great Smoky Mountains; and Rocky Mountains. The price of each blanket is $129. Rumpl donates 1 percent of the proceeds to the National Park Foundation.

8 FINGERPRINT PADLOCK
Your unique fingerprint serves as the key to open the Tapplock one+, a “smart” fingerprint padlock with 7-millimeter reinforced stainless-steel shackles. Tapping your finger on Tapplock’s sensor opens the lock in less than a second. The lock can store up to 500 fingerprints, which can be managed via the Tapplock app. Other unlocking options include using Bluetooth and Morse code.

The rechargeable lock provides one year of battery life per charge (a light blinks when power is below 10 percent). The lock is marketed as waterproof, dustproof, and rustproof, and has a double-layered design with anti-shim and anti-pry features. Color choices: sterling silver, gunmetal, and midnight black. The price is $99.

9 AUTOMATED SHADE
SureShade has designed retractable shade systems for the marine industry for 10 years. Now the company has entered the RV market with its ATF-RV Automated Shade, which features a telescoping framework that can withstand winds up to 50 mph. The shade operates with silent glide technology and can extend up to 10 feet. Other features include cambered components for enhanced aesthetics and better rain runoff; the ability to add side panels for screening and expandable living spaces; and a tilt-down mechanism for optimal shade. The shade can be installed on any size or type of RV. The suggested retail price starts at $5,700.
